RUSSIANS GREATLY INDIGNANT. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG March 15.-From the highest quarter the Associated Press has information that there is no foundation for the rumors from Tokio that the Russians are abandoning Port Arthur.

"It is the veriest nonsense," said the official informant of the Associated Press. "Nothing had occurred there to warrant such reports. The Japanese fleet has not been seen for forty-eight hours. The motive of the Tokio government in spreading this story is probably to influence public feeling in Japan for the purpose of creating enthusiasm while a war loan is being floated."

The newspapers here manifest the greatest indignation over the report, the Boerse Gazette characterizing it as outrageous and malicious invention. Attention is directed to the order of the day by Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, commander at Port Arthur, in which he declares that that place will never surrender, as representing the Russian position.

Relative to this point a military officer said to the Associated Press: "This mere statement carries its own refutation, unless we BERLIN, March 15 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Russia. Ambassador today communicated to the German Foreign Office a formal note announcing that Admiral Makaroff has laid a complete system of submarine mines all around the coast of the peninsula upon which Port Arthur is situated. The mines extend seaward for a distance of three miles. Russia repudiates all responsibility the coast without taking the required precautions.

REPORTED ESCAPE OF FLEET. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, March 15 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] A rumor has been current today to the effect that the Russian fleet escaped from Port Arthur the night of March 11. Four cruisers at Vladivostok also got out and the whole Russian fleet is now at sea. News of a great naval battle is hourly expected. A new and serious situation would be created if the Russians should succeed in evading the Japanese fleet. The probability is, however, that the Japanese are in touch with the Russians sufficiently to bring about an action which must be decisive and put an end to Russian naval volunteered to serve as spies. power in the Far East.

HEROISM OF RUSSIANS.

NEWCHWANG, March 15 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] Tales of neroism by the Russians during Thursday's fight at Port Arthur are reaching here. A Russian torpedo boat destroyer was saved by the reckless daring of a young midshipman named Palovsky. At the risk of his life he sprang from his post to the wheel, at which the steersman had been shot, and piloted the vessel away from four Japanese destroyers, toward which it was rapidly drifting. The electric steering gear had been disabled. Shells whistled past the daring youth, but he escaped unharmed. Many of the crew had been killed; others were panic-stricken, and but for Palovsky's bravery his vessel would have been destroyed, as was the Steregustschi.

> ONE SUCCESS-THREE BLUNDERS. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 15. - [Exclusive Dispatch.] An army officer who is making a close study of the progress of the Ru Japanese war has made criticisms of the operations of the Japanese nese. Speaking of the operations up to the present time he

"The Japanese have begun the war with one ade Port Arthur; second, beginning the war before they ready; third, sending a great army into Korea.

Take up these points, a small and inferior fleet of Russian torpe boats, if free to move, could do great damage and might even m up for all they have lost. The distance from Port Arthur to Chemulpo is only 300 knots, and the run could be made by these fast vessels in ten hours. Such a move was evidently planned when for the safety of foreign ships which approach within five miles of the last naval action occurred. Notwithstanding the highly colored reports of the bombardments of Port Arthur, we will probably find that the Japanese have not reversed all other experience of the navy against the land forts, and have been the heaviest losers.

"On the second point, the Japanese may be fairly convicted the Associated Press.] The machinery for the advance of the of making an error, if we can show that the delay was of greater advantage to the Russians than to themselves. As the Rr re-enforcements have to travel probably five times as far as the Japanese have to travel, it seems clear that one day of delay is worth five times as much to the Russians as to the Japanese.

"If the Japanese mobilization was perfect—that is, if the plans for the filling of the active army with reservists to bring it to its war strength had been good, the Japanese would have be ready to develop their strategic plans in about fifteen days, but the delay is now thirty-five days, and every day over fifteen is a black mark to the Japanese. A country which chooses the moment of making war should be careful to begin when she is ready.

Attorney-General Talks of the Effect of the Merger Decision.

Question Before the Court Was the Validity of the Northern Securities Device and the Government Does Not Intend to Run Amuck . Because it Has Won a Legal Victory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TTAWA (Ont.) March 15 .-Company was granted a charter by the Dominion government soon after the original suit was brought against the American corporation in Min-nesota. The directors named in the bill of incorporation were Canadians, but it was understood at the time that James J. Hill, the railroad president, was in existence, although no step has been taken to operate under it in Canada.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Attorney-General has a fund of about $470,000 with which to fight combinations of capital that the operating in violation of the Sherman Aut-Trux Law, in view of the decision of the United States Supreme Court yesterday, there is much specufation here, and probably throughout the country, as to what steps will be taken by the Department of Justice to dissolve other combinations. A statement by the At-

"My views cannot be better expressed than in the language of one of the best-known railroad presidents in the United States upon the occasion of the decision in favor of the government in the court below. He said: 'the decision is sound law, good sense, for the advantage of all legitimate interests and for the country's welfare, and it voices the judgment of probably nine-tenths of the most conservative business men of the country.'

the first appearance of a holding com-mark as a device to control competing interstate railroads has not been in vain. One of the results of the gov-ernment's action has been to acceler-ate a return to more sober methods in commercial affairs. I think the dan-ger of uncontrolled personal power in railway management has been averted.

"As to the bearing of the decision pon other railroads, I have only to say that the government has never claimed that the law is any broader than its language plainly indicates. If, between other railroads, there ex-ists contracts, combinations and con-

It has been found that the shallow drains used in some places do not prevent the rise of the alkali to the surface.

Instead of two and three feet deep, the drains should be five and seven feet deep. These drains will be most affective when iald one-half mile apart in east and west parallel lines, as they may thus be accessible to the owners of land on either side. NINE JURORS SECURED.

MRS. BOTKIN'S SECOND TRIAL.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—AM.]
SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—The work of securing a jury for the second trial of Mrs. Cordella Botkin on the charge of murdering Mrs. John P. Dunning by means of polsoned candy is progressing slowly in the Superior Court. As the result of the first day's examination of talesmen, only five jurors were passed. Several declared that they would not render a verdict to hang a woman and a number had already formed opinions regarding the case. None of those examined were anxious to serve and it is not expected that a jury will be obtained for a day or two.

The Delaware witnesses are due to arrive here on Thursday, and District Attorney Byington has announced his intention of placing them on the stand before the evidence of the others for the prosecution has been presented. Nineteen talesmen were examined today, four being accepted by both the prosecution and the defense, making a total of nine jurors so far chosen. There being no more names in the jury box, Judge Cook ordered that a special venire of seventy-five be summoned to appear at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

At the request of the defendant's attorney, George Knight, Judge Cook issued an order providing for a special commissioner to take the testimony of W. E. Wall, now a resident of Trenton, N. J., who was coroner at Dover, Del., when the lequest on the remains of Mrs. Dunning was held.

REDDING, March 15.—As the Oregon Express, due in San Francisco this morning, was running at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, at a point thirteen miles south of here, at midnight last night, the engineer and fireman both saw that they were bearing down upon a washout, three raillengths of track being without ties. They applied the brakes and waited for the catastrophe, but the entire train, with the exception of the last car, a Pullman, passed over the washed-out stretch of track before the train could be brought to a stop. The last car stopped on the unsupported track and toppied over. No one was hurt. The passengers of the derailed car were transferred to other cars, of the train, which proceeded.

FOR BALFOUR.

His Government Defeated,

Terrible Irish" Spring Coup Upon the Premier.

Sleepy London Wakes up and Runs to Westminster.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] LONDON, March 15.-[By Atlantic Cable.) Premier Balfour's government today was defeated in the House of Commons by the combined Liberal and Nationalist vote. This reverse was due to the prohibition by Mr. Wyndham, Secretary for Ireland, of the teaching of Gaelic in the junior grades of the Irish Nationalist schools. Mr. Balfour, although defeated by a majority on this question, does not re-gard the vote as one of want of con-ndence, and he will not resign on this majority on this question, does not regard the vote as one of want of confidence, and he will not resign on this account. His determination not to resign was strengthened by the fact that shortly after the foregoing defeat he was able to secure a majority of 25. The failure of the government to carry the House with it on a question of purely administrative policy in its frish department is generally admitted to greatly weaken its already waning prestige with the country, although it is not thought probable that any immediate dissolvement will ensue. In the House of Commons, to use the words of a prominent member of the opposition, "the artillery government arsenals would not make them surrender office."

Premier Balfour regards it as one of the essential principles of his party to hold onto the reins of government, for the present, at any rate. What he may do after Easter still refinains in doubt. The blow administered today makes the Premier's task of holding his party together doubly difficult and many supporters of the government frankly said tonight that they favored an early dissolution of Parliament rather than again undergo the humiliation experienced today.

"Those terrible Irish," as they are described for the moment by the Unionists, were entirely responsible for Mr. Balfour's defeat. On the question of Catholic education, Monday night, the Nationalists had voted with the Unionists, but even while so doing they were planning the downfall of the Conservatives. This afternoon the mine so ingeniously laid was set off with a success that thrilled the country. The strategy with which the whole coup was planned and the seenes that marked its culmination experienced toomoners that murky tranquility. Scattered throughout the clubs, hotels and restaurants, the Unionist commoners languidly discussed the war news and everything except in the same arens.

When the House of Commons met at 2 o'clock this afternoon with a verbose discussion of a question of but little interest except to the speakers themselves. Into

I J. GRIFFITH

The early papers only gave the figures of the voting on division, and readers were left to guess whether or not the government had resigned. A wild rush was made for the House of Commons, and many elderly members ran half a mile or more while others drove recklessly to Westminster. Within th House of Commons, itself, a strange scene was being enacted. An unsually ehort list of questions had brought on the business of the day brought on the bu

John Redmond made a companing about the prohibition of Gaelic in the schools, but instead of, a long speech, which it would seem that he had prepared, judging by the volume of notes in hand, the Irish leader said only a few words. Mr. Wyndham replied with equal brevity, and it was evident he was saving himself for a string of protests from other Irish members.

The treasury berich was deserted save for the Chief Secretary for Ireland and three of his junior colleagues, and barely twenty supporters of the government were in their places. Opposits was John Morley, with Herbert Gladstone and Richard Knight Gauston, the Liberal whips. These sat in solemn silence on the front bench, with a aprinkling of Liberals behind them. Sir Henry Campbelf Bannerman, the leader of the Liberal party, was absent. Mr. Balfour chatted merrily in the spectators' gallery with a friend. Then the boit fell.

No one rose to reply to Mr. Wyndham, the Irish party for once utilizing silence as its deadliest weapon. Mr. Redmond had suid there were to be no speeches, and though the rank and file of the Nationalists did not know the reason, not having been admitted to the secret plan set on foot the previous evening by their leader and their chief whip, they obeyed implicitly. Discipline triumphed, and not one word came from the Irish members of the benches. The Liberals, too, sat in silence, though they were ignorant of the projected coup, and, without a reply, a division was inevitable: Only then did Mr. Wyndham and the government whips realize how deliberately they had been outwitted.

THEN THE BELL RANG.

THEN THE BELL RANG. THEN THE BELL RANG.

John Regimond and Sir Thomas Esmonde had planned the division for 3 o'clock and the bells therefore clanged through the House at 2:55. In desperation, the government whips sent messengers in cabs and messages by telegram and telephone, but without avail, for when the tellers returned the clerk of the House handed Sir Thomas Esmonde the little slip of paper which is given to the winning side.

A second later, the members who had crowded in realized that the government had been beaten and then arose such a cheer as Westminster has not heard for many a day. The Irish and Liberal members clambered upon beyches and yelled themselves hoarse, and for nearly dive minutes pandemonium reigned. Several times Sir Thomas Esmonde tried to read out the figures, but his voice was drowned in the uproar.

Mr. Balfour, who had been just in time to vote for the government, sat smilling grimly. Finally, there was comparative quiet and Sir Thomas Esmonde read:

"Yeas, 141; nays, 130."

At this, the storm of cheering broke out afresh. The government was defeated by eleven votes.

A rush to the lobby followed and the members animatedly discussed whether or not Mr. Balfour would resign. The Premier, however, set these doubts at rest by saying that he saw no reason for such action.

Thanks to the prolonged exuberance of the Irish cheers and the hectoring of Mr. Balfour, the government whips got the chance of summoning their absent supporters and when, about ten minutes later, John Redmond moved to report progress on the ground that the government had not a majority able to transact the business of the government, the government secured a narrow majority of swenty-five. If the division had occurred a few minutes earlier the government inevitably would have been defeated and compelled to resign. To avert this, old men who had not run for many a year came rushing into the House, painfully out of breath, while Sir Thomas Henry Carson had not even waited to put on a necktie.

By a curious coincidence, the only other defeat suffered by the Unionist party since Lord Salisbury came into power, and which endangered the existence of the government, occurred nearly eight years ago on Thomas Esmonde's amendment to Gerald Baifour's Land Purchase Bill, when it again fell to the lot of the present chief whip of the Irish party to declare the government in a minority, which on that occasion was one of only four votes.

HANDWRITING ON WALL.

The members of the government and their supporters tonight profess that they regard today's divisoin more in the light of a joke than anything else, although they admit that it is a particularly annoying joke, especially in view of the pending bye-election. There is no suggestion of sharp practice, and even the members of the Cabinet admit privately that they were woefully outwitted by the irrepressible Irish. Sir Thomas Esmonde, in summing up the events of one of the most eventful days in recent English political history, said:

"Today's divisoin may be taken as the handwriting-on the wall. Experienced parliamentary hands do not attach undue importance to it; nevertheless, it unmistakably foreshadows an approaching dissolution, which to some extent it hastens. It was a blow HANDWRITING ON WALL theless, it unmistakably foreshadows an approaching dissolution, which to some extent it hastens. It was a blow to the morale of the government and its supporters, and a corresponding encouragement to their opponents in Parliament and in the country. It is enough to know that the government has been effectively reduced—how, it does not matter to inquire! We understand that they are in difficulties in the House, and we know that they are not as well qualified as they are supposed to be to carry on the business below felled Kane, and athough he was blow felled Kane, and athough he was below felled Kane, and athough he was blow felled Kane, and athough he was below felled posed to be to carry on the business of the country.

"The pendulum is already swinging toward a Liberal revival, and today"s events accelerate that movement. With one or more adverse divisions in the House, an appeal to the country becomes inevitable. Of course, there is always a chapter of accidents. In politics, the only thing certain is the unforeseen—but unless the return of Joseph Chamberiain brings new vigor and new cohesion to the Unionist party, their race is well-nigh run."

INTERESTING OIL CASE.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDER OF THE TIMES.)

VENTURA, March 15.—The case of the Modelo Oil Company against Sutherland Hutton, J. W. McKinley, Dwight Whiting et al. is on here in the Superior Court bafore Judge Ewing. The case is a decidedly interesting one, and has brought together a great array of legal talent fom Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Francisco and Ventura. The bone of contention is a rich wooducing bodylof oil land near land from which thousands of barrels of oil have been taken. Morrison & Cope of San Francisco and Toland & Rogers of this city appear for the Modelo people, while Blackstock & Orr of this city and J. W. McKinley, the latter also being one of the defendants, appear for defendants. The contention on the part of the plaintiff is that defendants sought, after plaintiff had been in possession, to have the holding patented from under them, as the Hutton Mining Claim and the Goodventure Mining Claim and the Goodventure Mining Claim which plaintiff claims will not hold.

The prisoner was taken back to the hotel and positively identified. Then it was discovered that he had carefully pianned the robbery. In his pocket a pair of wire cutters was found, and with them he had cut the telephone receiver loose, thus making the use of the instrument impossible. He had cut a leaf from the hotel register so his name could not be found, and had rifled the drawers behind the counter. After that he went into Kane's room and searched for the money he knew was there, and was making this search when Kane entered.

Sentinel Crows.

Crows are becoming a daily teature of speciacular life on Main street, and the novelty of seeing the raven-hued fellows from the country foraging on the principal thoroughfare has evoked considerable interest. Every morning for the last two or three weeks a fock of hungry chaps get around about 6 o'clock and for a solid hour then tend right to business picking up grub. The site which they frequent is a vacant lot owned by Mrs. A. E. Henderson on Main street, opposite the house of Philip Pfaffman, the Cherry Valley manufacturer. Scraps of rubbish from neighboring houses are dumped on the lot about every day, and the crows know it and gather for meals. One of the gang keeps watch from a tree near by while the others scratch busily and collect a breakfast. By and by the sentinel takes a chance at the pickings and one of the earlier eaters stays on guard. When the picket has had a feed the fock files away. Old residents and milkmen say that the cold weather and snow-covered ground make it very hard for the crows to get enough to cat and hunger drives them to the city.—[Worcester (Mass.) Spy.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The contest between capital and labor over eight-hour, antinjunction and arbitration bills before the committee of the Senate and for the next ten days the committees will be engaged in a hearing on these bills. It was expected that Senator McComas, chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, would close the hearings on the Eight-hour Bill tomorrow, but owing to the tremendous pressure brought to bear on the committee by the opponents of this measure, it will sit from day to day until further notice. Tomorrow, the House Committee on Labor will take up the Arbitration Bill, following with a series of hearings on the Eight-hour Bill to last about six days.

Daniel Davenport of Bridgeport, Ct., began an argument this morn-ing before the Senate Committee on Education and Labor in opposition to the Eight-hour Bill, and at the adjournment of the session, at he unani-mous request of members of the com-mittee present, he agreed to continue his discussion at a future date, prob-ably Thursday next. The members of the committee were greatly interested in Mr. Davenport's presentation of his subject, as he had made a careful study of it during the last year in behalf of the American Anti-Boycott Association, of which he is executive agent.

This organization, he explained, was because of its object, necessarily of a secret character, being an association of manufcturers formed for the pur-pose of aiding in the enforcement of the law, particularly the law against boycotting. Mr. Davenport also represents a large number of Chicago organizations, comprising the Chicago Building Centractors Council and other opponents of the bill. He at some length pointed out the Socialistic fea tures of the bill and the Socialistic endency of such legislation.

"These great interests for which assume here to speak," said Mr. Davenport, "are alarmed that a movement of this character has already obtained such great dimensions America."

he said, that the government should not take into consideration whether such legislation would result in an adsuch legislation would result in an ad-ditional expense to the government by increasing the cost of contract work. "But I put to you as officers of this government, where is this going to stop?" asked Mr. Davenport, repre-senting that the labor leaders now

"There is no step back, no step short of the exercise of absolute power. They are teaching wide-spread disregard of the rights of others," said Mr. Davenport, bitterly.

"Equally entitled themselves to the protection of society, they are teaching a widespread disregard and disrespect for law."

PRINCIPLES.

REMARKABLE PRINCIPLES. In this connection, Mr. Davenport In this connection, Mr. Davenport quoted from the very remarkble declaration of principles promulgated by the Boston Eight-Hour League, demanding an amendment to the patent laws requiring all patent articles to be manufactured by eight-hour labors and that all contract or other work done for the State be done on the eight-hour system. It also demands that manufacturing corporations shall adopt the eight-hour system or surrender their charter and that no person under twenty-one years of age shall be employed more than eight hours per day, under any circumstance.

than eight hours per day, under any circumstance.

"Is it wise to embark the government on this course?" asked Mr. Davenport. "If the United States. exacts conditions from its contractors to work their men only eight hours per day, what will you say when these gentlemen demand the same regulations shall apply to patentees? And what will you say when they follow with the demand that railroads and corporations engaged in interstate and corporations engaged in interstate commerce shall not work their em-ployés more than eight hours per day?"

He pointed out that by this legislation Congress proposes to say to the workingman: "You shall not work more than eight hours per day."

Friends of the bill recognize its unconstitutionality to do this directly and therefore seek to do it indirectly. He had never heard any one but labor leaders favor the restriction of a man's right to work.

"I want to ask you how you can sustain such a bill in fairness, justice and equity and how you can expect anyone to live and do business under its provisions?"

He also brought out the difficulty of enforcing the provisions of the bill and its injustice to the contractor who would be compelled to guarantee the actions of a sub-contractor and yet would have to defend his contracts with this same right to work.

ATTACK SPECIAL TRAIN. ATTACK SPECIAL TRAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-PM.]
CHICAGO, March 15.—After a day of rioting, in which several men were injured and several others arrested, striking employes of the American Can Company today made a determined attack on a special train which carried the non-union employes of the Diesel plant of the can company from their work to the Polk-street station. Although fifteen policemen guarded the train, a crowd of strikers climbed on the cars at Thirty-minth street and attacked the non-union men. They were driven back by the police, who displayed revolvers, but the strikers bombarded the train with stones. At Thirty-seventh street another attack was made and several windows broken, but no one was hurt.

The really astonishing thing thout this Mormon business, now to the fore again in the Smoot investigation at Washington, is the apparantly contented state of mind enjoyed by the plural wives themselves. Whoever it is that may be doing the "kicking" it is certainly not these unsetentions indicate who are as seen etentious ladies who are so seem-gly well satisfied to parcel out one asband pro rata among their various unscholds. True, there have been on wives who revolted, finally, married spouses, but instances of this kind are few. How Styles in Shees are introduced.

"The manufacturers of shoes get out new styles every season," said Lyman E. Goss, "and try to work up big sales, but it is the public which decides whether the styles will be popular or not. The men who set the styles in hats and cloaks for women can be as arbitrary as they please. The women will follow them to any extreme; but show a man a shoe that looks to him ridiculous and he will not have anything to do with it. He would rather be out of style than uncomfortable or ridiculous. And so the manufacturers are careful not to make much of an outily until they find out how the new styles will so with the people. They presaid, toward the close of his distinguished career, that the Democratic party would elect one more President day and generation. In view of the above credited utterance, he should

There is a steadily increasing and well-merited interest and appreciation on the part of the large audiences that have assembled in Chutes Park to hear the Italian musicians interpret the composers of all time. Last Sunday afternoon the enthusham was tremendous, and at the conclusion of the Carmen" number there were wild cries of "Bravo, bravo!" and almost hilarious applause. It was a spontaneous recognition of Chiaffarelli and his manterful and magnetic leadership, and of the artistic excellence of the programme which included "Lohengrin," "Faust" and "Carmen" numbers.

TORPEDOES IN WAR.

The opinion expressed by Lieut. Lloyd H. Chandler, U.S.N., in his lecture on the automobile torpedo before the Naval War College, that the torpedo is destined to play an increasingly important part in naval warfare, may be regarded now as somewhat in the nature of a prophecy which has already been practically fulfilled at Port Arthur. Lieut. Chandler regards the use of automobile torpedoes for purposes of harbor defence as especially valuable. "In this work," he says, as reported in the proceedings of the Naval Institute, "the automobile torpedo artnur. Lieut. Chandler regards the use of automobile torpedoes for purposes of harbor defence as especially valuable. "In this work," he says, as reported in the proceedings of the Naval Institute, "the automobile torpedo is without a rival. The ease with which it may be operated is scarcely appreciated. Two men may stand in the water and point the torpedo, while another pulls the starting lever, and good shooting is easily possible by this method. As for the accuracy of aim obtainable, it may be hoted that of twelve torpedoes fired during a recent test one caught in the tube, but the eleven others all hit the turret flash of the target at distances ranging from 500 to 1000 yards. "I believe that in all harbor defense work." Lieut. Chandler continues, "but especially in those harbors where the use of stationary mines is beset with unusual difficulties, the use of the automobile torpedo is an absolute necessity, and one that it is very unwhe to neglect in the way we are now doing. Regular shore submerged batteries, with powerful torpedoes; extemporised shore batteries, submerged or otherwise, with our service weapon, and the mobile torpedo batteries furnished by the submartine boats, taken in conneation with such stationary mines as can be used, and an outer and constantly shifting line of regular torpedo boats will, beyond question, form a defensive harrier that it would be madness for a hostile fleet to attempt, in a word, such a force would, I believe, render any such thing as forcing a harbor or maintaining a successful blockade impossible, except to attempt, in a word, such a force would, I believe, render any such thing as forcing a harbor or maintaining a successful blockade impossible, except at such a cost that no nation would be able to stand it." Lieut. Chandler advances the opinion that while the battleship is the backbone of a navy, the torpedo is an important adjunct. He says: "I see no reason why a range of 5000 yards, with a speed for that it aloned of explosive, and such a weapon should be abec

Nothing mattered now, neither time nor tide nor circumstances, for was she not dead, the woman of his heart?

Of course, they had had their little differences—what married couple does not?—sand the tears filled his eyes at memory of some of their spats. He had so often been in the wrong. She—she was an angel, and they had loved each other.

Now she lay dead before him. How had this thing happened? How had this great grief come to him? Why had the Master given her to him but to take her away?

He should not. He should not. He would hold her back out of the very arms of death. Half frensied with his grief, he seized her. He held her. He drew her to him. She yielded. Death was being vanquished by the power'of a great love.

And then a voice—her voice through the night—

PARIS, March 15.—The officials of the American Embassy are considering all possible points of French law to insure the protection of the United States when the payment of $20,000,000 for the Panama Canal Company's property is made. One of the points is whether it is desirable to have the money, instead of paying it directly to the officers of the old company. United States Ambassador Porter is satisfied that a liquidator is not necessary. Another question is whether the sale of all the property of the company comes within the charter rights granted to the company.

Former War Secretary Addresses New York Republicans and Says it is Time to Turn Attention to Great Issue.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1

NEW YORK, March 15.—Former Secretary of War Root was the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by the Republican Club of the City of New York.* Besides Mr. Root there were present Gov. Odell, Gen. D. M. Dodge, David B. Henderson, Judge Henry E. Howland, former Vice-President Levi P. Morton and J. Edward Addicks of Delaware. The President's letter of regret was as follows:

"If I could go to a dinner of any man, it would be to the dinner the Republican Club is giving in honor of ex-Secretary of War Root. I am bound to him not only by ties of recognition of his great and brilliant services to the nation and the party, but by a peculiar close and intimate personal friendship. I wish your club and your guests all good fortune."

Mr. Root, responding to the greeting of President Louis Stern, said in part;

"We are on the threshold of a great struggle, and there are rumors about men, about organization and factional strife. Tiey tell me there is great-trouble in the Republican party in the State of New York-factional difficulties, and that we are liable to lesse the State. I 'take no stock' in these factional differences, It seems to me that

NEW YORK, March 25.—Second
Deputy Police Commissioner Henry F.
Haggerty was removed today by Commissioner McAdoo's request, to

Commissioner McAdoo said that Deputy Commissioner Haggerty's removal

ROCK ISLAND (III.) March 15.—As a result of the governorship contest, a split has occurred in the Republican county convention here. In consequence, two conventions are being held. The first was called to order at the theater, in accordance, it is claimed, with the call, the hall being place1 under police protection. Meanwhile, the county committee favoring Yates claimed to have adjourned the convention until 3 p.m. Two delegations to Springfield seem assured. Chambers Unable to Decide Which Inflicted Bruises on Truant Son.

Which inflicted Bruises on Truant Son.

According to a decision made by Justice Chambers yesterday, little Frank Kobinson has the misfortume of having two cruel parents, but the court did not find it expedient to punish either of them for their alleged cruelty.

C. H. Robinson, the father, was on trial for cruelly whipping ht 10-year-old son for playing hookey from school. Mrs. Susie Sepulveda, a pretty little Spanish woman who lives in adjoining rooms to the Robinson family on Stephenson avenue, testified that she saw Kobinson beating the boy with a piece of scantling about three inches square. She was so shocked at the brutality of the whipping that she telephoned to the police, and the Humane Society started an investigation. Humane Officers Webb and Zimmer testified that the boy's body was a mass of bruises when they examined him. Various other witnesses testified to the effect that both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were in the habit of beating the boy severely. The lad himself told of the beating his father had given him. The mere memory of the thrashing made him weep so that he could scarcely give his testimony.

E. L. Hutchison appeared as counsel for the defendant and sought to prove that the bruises which were complained of were inflicted by the mother of the boy with a strap and a switch before the father chastised him. It was shown by several witnesses that the mother whipped him first and quite severely. Hutchison, in summing up, fell back on the good old doctrine that to spare the rod is to spoil the child. He could not speak from experience as a parent—not yet, having been married but recently—but from a long experience, as a school teacher he knew that whipping was a necessity in molding the character of some youngsters. He agreed with the famous motto of the Hoosier schoolmaster, "No lickin", no learnin, says I."

Justice Chambers, while of the opinion that the chastisement of the boy had been unnecessarily severe, said the secciation had no jurisdiction in the remises.

It appeared that Hanlon occupies a scullar position in the case. He is rincipal owner of the Baitimore Club in the Eastern League, as well as manager of the Brooklyns. In the former capacity he was selected as one of the Peace Committee to treat with the cleast people, and Morley tonight asserted that he used the position to improve his position in Brooklyn.

President Bert denied that he had secred that Dillon might not play with Los Angeles under any circumtances, and said that the man in distances, and said that the man in distances, and said that the man in distance could open the season with the buthern club, unless a formal denand for his services came from the last, or in the event that Morley was able to procure a telegram from the finor Association, in which it was admitted that it had no right to demand olilon's services for the big-league lab.

In the meantime, Morley will make

In the meantime, Morley will make a appeal to the national commission, he newly-organized supreme baseball ourt, and hopes to gain a favorable ecision. Such a decision would make is title to Dillon clear beyond all distate. Should this commission decide gainst Los Angeles, Morley avers that will submit gracefully, and make no urther effort to hold the much-desired put baseman. For the time being, forley appears to have the better of he-argument, as he exhibited confronting the peace committee, which is the Coast. For the first time most the peace compact was sealed, it seems as though Dillon was to remain a California, after all.

This action was taken in order to give outside towns more games.

After the business meeting closed an informal discussion of the Dillon matter was had, but no action was taken. Manager Morley stated that he wanted to bring the matter before the National Commission of Baseball Leagues, where he was confident of securing a decision in his favor. He contends that Hanlon's telegram, upon which the leagues acted, was not written in his official capacity as peace commissioner, but as an individual, and that he was in no way asking for anything that the National Association of Minor Leagues insisted upon. That this telegram asking for the release of Dillon, Damman and Castro was not an official request from the National Association of Minor Leagues, but simply an individual request.

LONG-PRICED ONES AGAIN IN FRONT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15.—Long-priced horses were again to the front at Oakland, Hainsuit being the only favorite to win. A six-furions handicap was the main attraction, and though Kenilworth ruled favorite in the early stages of the betting, Albula was most in demand when the field went to the post. Sad Sam went to the front, but stopped when the stretch was reached. Arabo, who had moved up on the outside, took the lead and won easily from Ocean Dream, while Albula, who was in the heaviest going finished third. Kenilworth made a poor showing.

The most spectacular finish was in the last race, where Otis, who made his first appearance since an accident two months ago, landed Oronte first by a neck in front of Daisy Green, while Venator, the heavily-played favorite, was third. The weather was fine, but track still muddy. Results:

Six and a half furlongs, selling: Captivate, 168 (J. Martin,) 7 to 1, second; Adirondack, 107 (Mountain,) 11 to 1, won; Ocean Dream, Mile Sam, Muresca, Kenilworth and Esherin finished as named.

that stamp him a very promising twirler; he showed all the goods any boxman needs and mixed them up in proper style.

Corridon could not get his curve ball to breaking quite right and was not at his best. Brown, who succeeded him, was effective, but the Loolees eventually got to him for some mighty swats. Little Ross laid up against a fast shoot for a triple to the left-field fence, and Smith drove one like a cannon ball to center at the opening of the ninth. Dillon's bounder caught the infield playing up for a bunt, and Williams just managed to spear the ball one-handed, throwing it over Moriarty's head at third and letting Smith score.

The final run in the fourteenth made the Looloos feel very much like a gambler who has had an ace full beaten by four deuces. With one down O'Neil hit sharply to right and went to second on a wild pitch. Tinker caught the second ball thrown him at the end of a tremendous swing and lifted it sky high over left-field fence onto the bowling-alley roof in the Chutes. It is hard luck to make a homer and receive no credit for it, but that was Tink's fate. He gets only a single. O'Neil socred the only run necessary to win—in fact, he accored both of them. The game ended when the catcher sped across the plate.

After Toman was hit on the head by O'Neil's high fly, Raymond went in to play short and he moved around like a veteran. Many did not know there had been any change. The little fellow made a clean hit to right, and pulled off every play he tried.

ANTI-LIQUOR CAMPAIGN.
It is announced that C. W. French, promoter of the San Diego-Yuma Railroad enterprise, is about to give a banquet to business and professional men of the city, also members of the City Council and city officials, at which time he will announce that ah active campaign will be inaugurated against the salcons, and to fight for ordinances imposing greater restrictions. The project has stirred up a hornet's nest. Mr. French has identified himself with the Anti-Soloon League, Purity League and other moral reforms. COALING STATION WORK. ANTI-LIQUOR CAMPAIGN.

COALING STATION WORK. Lieut.-Com. Holcomb, who is to have charge of the construction of the naval coaling station, received word today that a lanuch, to be used in the pre-liminary survey work, will be shipped from Mare Island on the steamer sailing the 17th inst. Four men will come with the launch. Lieut. Holcomb's surveying instruments arrived this morning. The officer is confident that morning. The officer is confident that this will be one of the first of the pro-posed coaling stations to be built. STEEL PLANT CONTRACT.

A. A. Purman, who is associated with C. W. French and others in promoting the steel-plant enterprise, states that a contract for the construction has been placed with Milliken Bros. of New York, the contracting company agreeing to take one-fourth of the contract the proper whatever it may be in the contract that the contract is not the contract that the contract is not the contract that the contract is not the contract that ing to take one-fourth of the contract price, whatever it may be in the stock of the corporation—Mr. Purman estimates that the plant will cost about $39,000,000. The contract was made with Foster Milliken, representing the firm, the former having been here several days investigating the proposition.

RURAL DELIVERY. Postoffice Inspectors Monroe and Hall were here today to confer with Postmaster Newkirk regarding the re-adjustment of the free rural-delivery service. The schedule calls for two de-liveries a day, but under the present arrangements this cannot be done.

CONSUMPTIVE ENDS HIS LIFE.

OLD BEACH, March i5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles F. Palmer, a consumptive, shot and killed himself at Brawley last night. He came there a year ago in the last stages of the dread disease, but improved a good deal till about three months ago, when he commenced to grow worse.

Last night, as was his custom, he took his blankets and went to the alley in the rear af the land company's office, where he had been in the habit of sleeping on the ground. Two shots were heard, but they did not attract special attention. This morning Palmer's body was found by W. K. Peasley, He had shot himself through the forehead and death had evidently been instantaneous. In his hand was still clutched a revolver.

In the absence of the Coroner an inquest was conducted by Justice George Holloway. There was also a letter from a woman in Etna, N. Y., signed "Covena." Palmer was a native of Ithaca, N. Y. His age was 26. He has a mother living in Etna, N. Y.

THE RUSSIAN PRESS. It takes from fifteen to twenty days or mail matter to reach Los Anges from St. Petersburg and Moscow, o that at the present moment I have be Russian names only up to Fals. the Russian papers only up to Feb-ruary 24, or for the first sixteen days of the present war. Among them are the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg. the Russkia Vledomosti of Moscow, the Novi Kral of Port Arthur. Their the Russkia Viedomosti of Moscow, the Novi Krai of Port Arthur. Their careful review establishes beyond any doubt that neither official nor unofficial Russia expected war and was in no way prepared for it. St. Petersburg and Moscow both were entirely taken aback—amased to the utmost—and not before February 10 dld the country begin to realize that she was actually at war with Japan. The papers up to that date and up to the receipt of news of the attacks upon Port Arthur and Chemulpo were very mild towards Japan. There evidently was no hard feeling, and England was considered more to blame than Japan. In its leading editorial of February 8, after the recall of Ambassadors, the Novoe Vremya, quoting several latest expressions of the British press. presumes that England is already sorry she has led Japan so far, and states further that the United States certainly ought to realize the possibilities which may follow its policy in the Far East, and the fact that Russia cannot see anything but "breach of faith" in the hasty conclusion of the new Chinese-American treaty and appointment of new consuls in Manchuria at such a time. Not a word against Japan—but an expression of hope that peace still may be preserved.

JAPAN'S TREACHERY.

JAPAN'S TREACHERY.

The attacks on Port Arthur and Chemulpo changed that position instantly and completely. Japan's first blow, which deprived the Russian fleet of three battleships and four cruisers was frankly and openly acknowledged—but it was branded as treachery, as a stab in the back, and acted as a spark, starting an immense confingration. Practically the whole European continental press, as well as some independent English papers, sustained that view. The Russian press for the last twe weeks is full of extracts on the subject from the most influential German, French, Austrian, Italian, Swedish, even Spanish and Portuguese papers.

The whole of Russia arose as one JAPAN'S TREACHERY.

ish, even Spanish and Portuguese papers.

The whole of Russia arose as one man. The street demonstrations in St. Petersburg. Moscow, Odessa, Riga. Kleff. Charkoff, Tiflis and hundreds of minar cities and towns were unprecedented in Russian history by their magnitude and spontaneous sincerity. Millions of roubles began at once to flow for restoration of the fleet, for the Red Cross, for the families of killed and wounded. Tens of thousands of volunteers besieged the military offices throughout the empire day and night. Public indignation knew no bounds. The national pride was aroused as never before. Entire pages of newspapers are taken by lists of subscriptions—single donations of ten, twenty-five, fifty and even hundreds of thousands of roubles are quite a common thing. Private parties, village, town and city municipalities, province governments—all are represented.

Besides those contributions in cash, practically acceptance.

Besides those contributions in cash, practically every government institution, every private establishment, mercantile and manufacturing, pledged itself and all its employés to pay every month from 1 to 5 per cent, of all salself and all its employes to pay every month from 1 to 5 per cent. of all salaries and wages towards some special object for war purposes. These monthly amounts pledged are simply immense. Subscriptions for new war vessels, started by the Novoe Vremya gave 3,000,000 roubles in the first three days. Old. men. survivors to the Crimean and Russo-Turkish wars, state that never before did public enthusiasm proclaim, itself so vividily, so uniformly, so strongly. The Russian papers, so far, have not recorded a single dissenting voice, and private letters received by me since the war began from various Russian cities, from absolutely reliable parties, confirm all the above in toto. It is really a remarkable picture of a strong and unanimous national spirit, aroused to its very foundations.

OUR ATTITUDE A SURPRISE.

And amid all that lofty uprising of a mighty and highly-emotional nation. 140,000,000 strong, came as a cold douche tidings from the United States, stating in unmistakable, harsh language, that the press of that country as well as its public opinion were practically unanimous in favor of Japan, that her victories were publicly applauded and her course fully approved—that Russian contentions as to breaches of international laws were simply laughed at. The Lendon Times, in its leader of February 12 stated: "America is absolutely friendly to Japan. This friend—ly attitude certainly cannot be ex-OUR ATTITUDE A SURPRISE.

Interesting Experiment in a Restaurant.

An advertising agent, representing a prominent New York magazine, while on a recent Western trip, was dining one evening in a Pittsburgh restaurant.

While waiting for his order he glanced over his newspaper and notice i the advertisement of a well-known dyspepsia preparation, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; as he himself was a regular user of the tablets, he began speculating as to how many of the other traveling men in the dining-room were also friends of the popular remedy for indigestion.

He says: "I counted twenty-three men at the tables and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview men at the tables and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview and was surprised to learn that nine of the twenty-three made a practice of taking one or two of Stnart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

"One of them told me he had suffered so much from stomach trouble that at one time he had been obliged to quit the road, but since using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets had been entirely free from indigestion, but he
traveling, on account of irregularity in meals and because like all traveling men he was often obliged to eat what he could get and not always what he wanted.

Another, who looked the picture of out taking a Stuart Tablet afterward, because he could eat what he pleased and when he pleased, without fear of a sleepless night or any other trouble. "Still another used them because he was subject to gas on stomach, causing pressure on heart and lungs, shortness of breath and distress in chest, which he no longer experienced since using the tablets regularly.

"Another claimed that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was the only safe remedy he had ever found for sour stomach and acidity. He had formerly used common soda to relieve the used common soda to relieve the trouble, but the tablets were much better and safer to use."

better and safer to use."

After smoking, drinking or other excesses which awaken the digestive organs, nothing restores the stomach to a healthy, wholesome condition so effectually as Stuart's Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the natural digestive, pepsin, diastase, which every weak stomach lacks, as well as nux, hydrastin and yellow parilla, and can be safely relied on as a radical cure for every form of poor digestion. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Alleged Counterfeiter's Trial.

The trial of Fred Leon Mellette, accused of counterfeiting gold pieces and other coins, was begun yesterday in the United States District Court. Mellette was arrested about a year ago near Santa Barbara. An outfit for the manufacture of spurious coins was found in his house. Mellette was associated with Dave Ellsworth, who proved to be a pardoned convict from the State of Washington. Ellsworth pleaded guilty to a charge of counterfeiting, and was sent to San Quentin for fifteen years.

Hamburger's Managers' Banquet.

Hamburger's department managers, to the number of forty-eight, discussed the interests of the establishment giving them employment last evening at the Del Monte restaurant. Reversing the usual order a discussion of the betterment of the store system preceded the banquet, subjects having been announced in advance. The subjects were in the nature of queries as to whether or not certain changes would not improve the service, and facilitate the transaction of business. These banquets and discussions, which are to be held periodically, have resulted in the formation of the Managers' Association of Hamburger's. The following officers have been chosen: President, L. D. Lederman; vice-president, L. D. Lederman; vice-president, P. B. Coss; secretary, W. F. Piasterer.

Dr. Abbott to Lecture.

As a result of a great deal of pressure and persuasion on the part of leading citizens of this city, Dr. Lyman Abbott has consented to deliver his remarkable lecture, "Ideals," at the Temple Baptist Church, corner Second and Hill streets, on Frday evening. An attempt was made to secure either the Pavillon or the Simpson Auditorium, but both were engaged, and as Friday night was the only date that the doctor found it possible to take from his litherary, the Temple was secured and additional seats will be added to increase the capacity. This lecture was given in Passdena Monday night and has been the talk of the city ever since. Several hundred who heard it then will come to Los Angeles to hear it again. Giant Locomotives.

Two magnificent new locomotives were received in Los Angeles from the East Monday by the Salt Lake road, that are said to be superior, in their class, to anything on this Coast. They are of Baldwin make, known as the Prairie type, and are built especially for high speed. Sixty miles an hour with an ordinary passenger train will be mere play for these iron fellows, which weigh 250,000 pounds each, measure seventy-five feet over all, and sit on twelve wheels, six of which—the drivers, measure seventy-seven inches in diameter. The tenders carry cylindrical water tanks of 7000 gailons capacity each, and the fuel tanks are capable of holding 2500 gailons of crude oil. Electric headlights, duplex air pumps and steam bell ringers, are among the modern improvements possessed by the big machines. They will probably be used on the new Riverside run.

Much Smoke; Little Fire.

A dense volume of smoke pouring over the roofs of the Laughlin building and adjoining structures on Broadway below third street at 11:15 o'clock last night caused passersby to believe that the large business houses there were on fire, and an alarm was sent in from box 13 at the corner of third and Broadway. When the firemen arrived they found that the night porter in the dry goods store of Crandall & Lane, Nos. 327-9 South Broadway, had filled the furnace with papers and ignited them. The draught in the chimney was so strong that a number of the papers were carried to the rof, where they burned without damaging the building. E. M. Hamilton is a picturesque character in mining circles. He has lived in Los Angeles over twenty-eight years, and has prospected over the entire state. About six years ago he located the Lidda mine, and worked the property in a priminitive way for several years before he "struck it rich."

At present the property is equipped with a five-stamp mill and a small cyanide plant. The shaft is about 300 feet deep, and it is Mr. Hamilton's proud boast that not a pound of ore has ever been stoped, though the property has produced about $200,000 from development work alone. At one time he tried to sell the mine for $300, but, as he says, that is another story.

A pitiful, hurried scrawl, unsigned A pitiful, hurried scrawl, unsigned, came by mail yesterday to the mother of Sarah Haywood, the Los Angeles young woman, who mysteriously vanished last Thursday. It said:
"My Dear Mamma: I wish to write you a line while I have a chance.
"I am locked in a room. I honestly don't know whereabouts I am. Perhaps I will get out again and perhaps I never will.
"I will be glad if I ever get out alive. They want me to go with other men.

They want me to go with other men.

care. All the fast houses were searched.

This scrawl from the supposed suicide, coming through the trackless mail bag, makes this mystery the most weird and bewildering the local police ever had to deal with.

Mrs. W. I. Gallup, the girl's mother, reported to the police that she believes the man's letter to be in the handwriting of the daughter's husband, "Tar" Haywood, from whom she separated before she fell in love with peterson, of whom the letters both speak.

Board of Health Asks Council to Amend Ordinance for Hog's Redemption.

It nappened at the board meeting last night.

For many moons Health Officer Powers has looked with disfavor on the disappearing remnants at the slaughter-houses. The thought of ham and side meat built on such a foundation has filled his sanitary soul with horror to the bursting point.

So when Meat Inspector Hughes last evening recommended that "pork from hogs fed on viscera of cattle, sheep and hogs be condemned as unfit for human food" the proposal found instant support.

The board approved the recommendation and adopted a resolution, asking the City Council to amend the meat ordinance accordingly.

the Police Commission entertained audience, largely composed of laa, at its meeting yesterday, that ted the room to the limit. Dr. E. S. apprin, lead of the anti-saloon agistion, was there, as were a number other well-known persons who take me or has interest in the license estion.

The occasion of the gathering was fact that a number of license appearations were to be acted upon, ainst which protests had previously meetinged. All the sections interest with the bulk of it came from a neighborhood of Seventh and Mastreets.

At that point Josef Belolavek had made application for the transfer of a license now located at No. 400 Aliso street, in the same of G. P. Pfirman. incense now located at No. 400 Aliso street, in the same of G. P. Pfirman. At the previous meeting of the Police Commission the transfer had been granted under some sort of a misapprehension, for the number given in the application is a vacant lot. The residence for the number given in the application is a vacant lot. The residence for the number given in the application is a vacant lot. The residence for the number given in the application of hand to nut up their fight, but the matter he dil beet arranged beforehand. The man with the unpronouncable name is an employe of Maler & Zobelein, and was backed by that brewery, who probably had been informed that his application would again be taken up and refused. Before a word could be spoken on the subject, Fred Maier stepped forward and withdrew the application with the understanding that the license was to be centinued on Aliso street.

In quick succession the applications of J. G. Althouse for a license at No. 122 West Ninth street; Bernhard & Geyer, No. 116 East Fifth street; Leon Clos, No. 301 Aliso street, were all withdrawn without the protestants having spoken a word.

The Althouse saloon was formerly a well-known place in the old one-story building at the corner of Sixth and Spring sireets, but the old structure is now to not down and a large block in course of construction. It was the desire of Althouse to locate the saloon in the new building, on the Sixth-street ide, and the people thought it a good time to make their fight, which they did successfully.

The McCoye license was asked for to be located on the south side of Ninth street, and while the "antis" argued that there was no need of a saloon cone ended at the north side of Ninth street, and while the "antis" argued that there was no need of a saloon there, as there is now one on the corner of Ninth and Main, the fight was also made on the ground that the zone revoked used his first breach of the law.

Against this wide-open plan Keeney took istue, with the apparent support of Commissioner Lewis, who sat at his elbers, and when Keeney moved that the matter go over one week it went over easy. Commissioner Rule was not present. The Burbank application necessarily took the same course.

The "star" play of the session was the revocation of the restaurant license of Sam Sullivan, heretofore run in connection with his saloon at Fifth and Spring. Sam was subjected to a course in the Commission catechism.

Mayor Snyder sat at the head of the class and propounded the questions.

Mayor Snyder sat at the head of the class and propounded the questions and Sammy, like a good boy, said "Yes sir, yes sir, no sir," with promptness and vigor. He was more than willing to answer in accord with the official desire, for Chief Elton had a few minutes before submitted a report in which he held up to the gaze of the commission, the record of drunken brawle and a robbery that had st different times caused Sullivan's place to be aired before the Police Court. The Chief said all these troubles had originated in Sullivan's restaurant and not in his saloon, his theory being readily adopted by the board, which wanted apparently to deal gently and tenderly with Sullivan. Then the culprit was called in.

He readily understood by the trend of the questions put by the Mayor that is soon license was to be spared even though the restaurant license was revoked, and he promised to close the upstaire, and not only to close it but to take out the tables, chairs and all other articles that had been used to allow the place to be called a restaurant, though it was simply a place where and, and women went to "entoy" themselves in drunken reveis the promised that he would not even He promised that he would lock the place up. AT THE COURTHOUSE, TTACK SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

WHITTIER BOARD'S ACTION SAID TO BE IRREGULAR.

Competitive Plans for New Build-ing Were Adepted Without First Being Approved by County Super-intendent, Which Course is Said to be a Violation of the Law.

A technical irregularity in the adoption of plans for the new Whittier High School may delay the construction of that building.

At a meeting of the Whittier High School Trustees on the 5th inst. the board accepted the competitive plans submitted by a San Francisco firm of architects. The third prise was awarded to Architecta Burnham & Bliesner of Los Angeles.

Now it is contended that the Whittier School Trustees did not follow the law requiring that in such a case the plans should be passed upon by the County Superintendent of Schools. In order to straighten the tangle County Superintendent Keppel has since made an examination of the plans and, with a few slight modifications, has approved them.

Through an attorney, Architects Burnham & Bliesner have given notice to the Whittier board declaring that the action of that body in accepting the plans was irregular and have served notice on the County Superintendent of Schools directing him to not approve the plans without first hearing from them.

It is reported that one or more of the firms or individual architects whose plans were not accepted intend to bring suit to enjoin the Whittier thoard from letting the contract under the plans of the San Francisco architects. In support of such action it is contended that the Whittier High School Trustees, while undoubtedly men of good business qualifications, should not be presumed to poaces technical knowledge sufficient to judge properly of the plans.

The new Whittier High School is to ecct $58,000.

AMOS ABBOTT CRAZY.

THREE TIMES COMMITTED.

THREE TIMES COMMITTED.

The noted Abbott family was again represented in court yesterday. One of the boys had taken a crasy streak again. It was Amos, who has now been committed to the insane asylum at Highland for the third time.

The Abbott homestead on the Mission road was for years a noted place, and from there the boys and girls passed out into the world to win a reputation. And they did it—such as it was. There were five boys and four girls, but one or two of the boys died. San Francisco was found to offer a better field for the peculiar talents possessed by the family, but Amos came to grief about six months ago and returned to the old home. He was present when there was a little family difficulty and a lighted lamp was used as a weapon and went sailing through the sir. It missed the person it was almed at, but caught Amos in the neck and the blazing oil burned him badly. He had always been a morphine flend, and now the whole of his body appears like that of a tattooed man. To ease the pain he took cocaine and very soon he was as much of a wreck as ever. Latterly he has taken to making fires in the bedrooms of the family mansion; keeps his mother and the other inmates awake all night by screaming and hollowing, and has deported himself so that there was no option left but to send him back to Highland.

Judge Wilbur made the order, but Mrs. Abbott will have to pay $15 a month for the maintenance of her son. She was not pleased at the prospect, and said that she couldn't understand why she should be made to pay when other people didn't.

that there was no need of a saloon there as there is now one on the corner of Ninth and Main, the fight was also made on the ground that the zone described in the ordinance would not admit a saloon being located on the south sidalest the screet.

The applications of J. E. Waldeck for a restaurant license at the Casino Theater, and S. A Lowenstein for a like license at the Burbank Theater were held ovar for one week. Commissioner Lang felt the ground for Waldeck, declaring it as his theory that every restaurant license asked for should be granted, and then promptly revoked upon the first breach of the law.

and said that she couldn't understand why she should be made to pay when other people didn't.

LOVES THE MEN.

MRS. DAVIS IS BADLY OFF.

"I'll tell you why it is, it's because I love and adore the opposite sex. Yes I do, because they're all powerful, they're lords and gods and can lift a woman up or cast her down, and that's why I glory in my downfall."

After that confession of faith Mrs. Caroline Davis sat back in her chair revoked upon the first breach of the law. ment, but the words were wrested from her to account for some of her ac-tions. She was charged with being ment, but the words were wrested from her to account for some of her actions. She was charged with being insane.

Mrs. Davis was quite frank and told Judge Wilbur that it was quite true that she heard voices and so on, but that she couldn't help if she was clairvoyant and clairaudient, as she had been born and reared with those characteristics.

"My children have been put into the Catholic Orphanage at Denver," she said, "when they are neither orphans nor Catholics. I came here through my brother, Charles Willard Carroll, who was stopping at the Roeslyn, and he promised to help me and get a home, but he skipped out and before going told my uncle at Down's that I would never get my children. My husband is William Lee Davis, and as left to go to Mexico five years ago, and I've only heard from him at intervals."

The predominant thought with Mrs. Davis is to recover her children, and it is in talking about them that she shows an unbalanced mind.

"I learned about my children," she said, "from three women here. No, they are women of strong magnetic personality and I would rather not tell their names. I know too well how easily a woman that has gone through what I have can be swept to destruction. Though I knew that they had followed me here, I didn't know where they were until one stormy night I went and searched and found them at the Savoy, on Broadway."

It was after telling erratically about her search for her children that she indulged in the outburst regarding her tender regard for the opposite sex. And that settled it. She was committed instanter.

GRIFFITH MAY SERVE AN ADDITIONAL YEAR.

F Griffith J. Griffith perfects his appeal to the Supreme Court, in the case wherein he was convicted of an arsault with a deadly weapon upon his wife, Mrs. Christina Griffith, in the Arcadia, Hotel at Santa Monica, he will practically serve an additional year to the sentence passed by the court. This for the reason that it will take at least a year for the appeal to come up in regular order before the Supreme Court, and in the interim Griffith will be compelled to remain in the County Jail.

It has been determined that Griffith will not be admitted to bail. No formal application for ball has been made to Judge Smith, but in an informal Judge Smith has on several occasions

Capt. Thom was appointed administrator of the Bell estate and settled with six of the heirs, but Solomon Bell, who lived in Penneyivania, for some reason did not communicate with the administrator. Upon the discharge of Capt. Thom, and at his request, the court took measures to guard the interests of the one heir having property still remaining here. Attorney C. N. Wilson was appointed to the position and received about $1500 in cash and title to two pieces of property. Up to July 67 last year Wilson remained guardian of this property. At that time Miss Mary Jane Bell obtained a judgment against him for the sum he is now charged with embezsling in Judge Wilbur's court. Miss Bell now for some reason declines to swear to a complaint for Wilson's arrest.

AN ADMIRALITY CASE.

DAMAGES FOR COLLISION.

Justice Young's court was engaged in the trial of an admirality case yesterday, J. J. Jenkins et al. suing the Wilmington Transportation Company for $49 damages, alleged to have been incurred through the negligence of the master of the steamer Warrior.

On August 26 of last year the Nautilus, a schooner-rigged craft belonging to the plaintiffs, was sailing in a northerly direction in the inner harbor of San Pedro, when the Warrior sought to cross her bow. The consequence was that the bow of the schooner struck the quarter of the steamer, and the Warrior then jammed the former against the Nelson, a sailing versel lying at anchor in the stream.

The damage done to the Nautilus was not very great, and cost only $40 to have set to rights. The backstays were loosened and the taffrail was broken, and that was about all. The Wilmington Transportation Company denied liability, but nevertheless Justice Young gave the plaintiffs judgment in the full amount. DAMAGES FOR COLLISION.

HE PLEADED GUILTY.

M. G. WALSH SENT TO FOLSOM. Despite a well-established character, Michael G. Waish yesterday was sentenced to five years in Folson prison for shooting a woman. He had pleaded not guilty, but withdrew that plea and owned up to the crime alleged against him.

Walsh has been a hard-working all have spoken well of him, but he got entangled with Elia Powers, a woman bad even for the class with which she was identified. On Decem-ber 8 she and Walsh had trouble and ber 8 she and Walsh had trouble and he under the inspiration of liquor shot her three times. Her wounds were not fatal.

Deputy District Attorney Donnell yesterday told the court that the only witness the prosecution had was the woman and they were very uncertain as to whether she would tell the true story on the witness stand. Under the circumstances there was a good chance for Walsh to have escaped if he had stood pat, but he pleaded guilty.

a vote of $1 against and 56 in favor of the proposition.

This is the third special election held to pass upon the issuance of bonds for building a schoolhouse, and each time the "antis" have captured the works. But the antis at this election may be the ones in favor of the next proposition, for the district is divided into two factions, and so far they have not been able to line up together. Already, however, steps have been taken to call another public meeting to try and get the residents of the district to agree upon a $26,000 bond issue for the purpose of building three new schoolhouses.

As a matter of fact three new schoolhouses are needed, but while most of the children live on one side of Vermont avenue, most of the revenue of the district is received from the other side. In this state of affairs it has been found impossible to get all the people to agree just where the schoolhouses shall be located.

The plaintiff went as blacksmith's helper to the grading camp being run by the defendants in Neveda. Shortly after his arrival he was injured by a rock thrown by a black shot off about 800 feet away. His employers were careful of him and saw that he had the best attention during the time of confinement in the hospital, and after, and then the suit followed. The court holds that the accident was of that peculiar character that could not have been contemplated or guarded against by any reasonable amount of care.

TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE. Next Monday the Southern California Anti-Tuberculosis League, which is a philanthropic organisation for the prevention of the spread of consumption, will make formal application to the Board of Supervisors for some assistance in paying the expenses of printing the first pamphlet prepared by the league. The secretaryship is not the fat office it was several years ago, when it was believed worth $50,000 a year, with incorporation fees added to fees received by Secretary Stoddard a year, with incorporation fees added to fees received by Secretary Stoddard for acting as agent for foreign corporations. The lost Legislature turned the incorporation work over to the Territorial Auditor's office and prohibited Territorial officials from acting as agents for incorporations. Since the law took effect, about a year ago, the lees turned into the Territorial treasury by the Auditor have aggregated $30,000. The Secretary's salary, faild by the Interior Department, is only $1800 a year. Fees as Insurance Commissioner and for certifications bring the emoluments of the office to about $4000. Wilson accuses Delegate Rodey of New Mexico of resorting to underhanded measures to advance Joint Statehood. At first Rodey was for the proposition, but, on receipt of messages from home, he apparently changed, telling in committee that he did so because he had found that 60 per cent. of his constituents did not believe with him. But Rodey has changed back to his original views and has parted company with Wilson, and, according to the latter, "has invaded my Territory in what I believe an evil effort to proselyte my people and cause them to abandon a sovereign American right for his own view of partisan advantage."

It is not necessary to say months, as did yesterday's London dispatches, and there are likely to be outpost encounters quite as serious as our "battle" at Las Guasimas in 1898, before long. Even should Port Arthur be cut off, the Russians cannot be driven eut of Manchuria until Harbin is captured or vacated. And Harbin is nearly 400 miles from Seoul in an air line—a long distance for an army to cover while keeping up seacoast communications as well—[New York Evening Post.

Rich Cargo from Japan.

The most valuable cargo ever shipped from Japan to America was that which was brought from Yokohama by the steamship Lyra. It consists of articles for the Japanese exhibit at the World's Fair. Included in the shipment were many contributions from the Mikado's own private collection.

Among the articles is a case of Japanese coins valued at $12,000. There are specimens of armor, showing the evolution of defensive body covering in Japan for more than 2000 years: pictures showing the development of art in Nippon for centuries. Cloissone, Imari, and Satsuma vases and vessels of indescribable beauty and of priceless value; ivory carvings, gold lacquer work, inlaid cabinets, temple antiquities, bronzes of wonderful workmanship, tapestries from the ancient palaces of the Mikados, and the entire anese village to be erected in the Japanese concession at the exposition.

NO CURE, NO PAY

I want to talk to men who have pains and aches; who feel run down physically, and who realize that the old "fire" and energy which was so evident in youth is absent now; men who can't stand the amount of exertion they could years ago. I want you-if that means you-to come to me, and if I say that I can cure you I don't ask you to pay me until I DO so. That is fair, surely. You take no chances, as I know what I can do, and I'll run the risk.

do, and I'll run the risk.

If it were not for the prejudice due to the great number of fakes in the land I would not be able to handle all the business that would come to me. The "Free Beit" fraud and the "Free Drug" scheme, which are not free at all, have made everyone skeptical, but I know that I have a good thing, and I'll hammer away until you know it.

Mr. W. Hoover, Goleta, Cal., says: "My rheumatism has entirely divappeared, my digestion is perfect. I have gained eight pounds in weight and all the symptoms of weakness are gone, which is remarkable, considering my age."

I have a cure in every town. Tell me to the great state of the symptoms of weakness are gone, which is remarkable, considering my age."

I have a cure in every town. Toll me where you live and I will give you the name of a man I've cured. Tell me your trouble and I will tell you honestly whether I can cure you or not. If I can't cure you I don't want your money. I have been in this business 22 years and I am the biggest man in it today by long odds, and I am growing yet, because I give every man all he pays for.

If you will come and see me I'll explain it to you. If you can't call, let me send you my book, full of the things a man finds inspiring to strength and courage. Free if you send this ad.

INDUSTRIAL FREEDOM.

Deliverance from Labor Union Thalldom at Hand.

Citizens' Alliance is Restoring Balance of Power.

Herbert George's Address to the Citizens of Oakland.

OAKLAND, March 14,-In his recent dress before the Oakland Citizens' liance, Herbert George of Denver, oke in part as follows:

"We are not here tonight to glory over the success of a citizens' alliance in the strike situation nor are we here to giory over the defeat of the Butchers' Union. The birth of every-thing is attended with more or less pain and Oakland has labored and brought forth better industrial condiight forth better industrial condis. . . . This condition has a yer, pacifying effect upon both sides. It makes labor re-apectful sides, it makes the employing classes respectful. They get together and sooner or later understand each other batter and Avoid the destrucboycotts, lock-outs, pickets and kin-by the narrow and bigoted leaders who have fought their way into control of old-time law-abiding decent unionisms. It is our business to get along with our neighbor. Always remember the fact that labor and capital must get together and work together in peace, harmony and justice. I do not believe they are good things, neither do you, my frienda and this is why we are all working together for common purpose. That common purpose is equilibrium, commercially and industrially.

GROWING MOVEMENT. "The Citizens' Alliance movement is growing rapidly everywhere and al-ready John Mitchell is in the field counseling against strikes. This could not have been a year ago. Think what these associations have Think what these associations have done in one short year. Contemplate the fact that labor-unionism has been going on for more than fifty years. It is simply an illustration of the power of brains veraus the power of brute force. The labor unions keep 170,000 men in the field organizing continually. We have less than 700 at the present time, but we propose to raise it to 170,000 if it is necessary to do so. Labor unions assess the cost of this propaganda work upon the public by raising the price of labor. They spend millions of dollars in salaries and traveling expenses in this work. There is nothing to prevent us doing the same. We have our local organizations throughout Calour local organizations throughout Cal ifornia and soon will have a State organization and the State organiza organization and the State organiza-tion will become a part of the national organization. By and by we will take a run over to London and get a moye-ment starfed there and then we will have an international proposition-just the same as the labor unions have. "We are meeting them on every point. We are not fighting them, we are just simply smothering them, in

They are beginning to real-American relization, meeting one another on a level and fearing pothing. That is the proper condition of society in any phase of civilization, and the mearer we approach a social and industrial equilibrium, the happier and more prosperous the community must of necessity be. We are all brothers and we are all working together and the mistakes that have been made can be easily mastered friough education and enlightenment.

CHANGE OF SENTIMENT. "This Citizens' Alliance is a conit wins is because the unionists go upon the principle of destruction.

Where they have power their destructive methods are simply appalling and their tyranny is simply beyond comprehension. This is not so because the majority of the members of labor mitors favor such majorers.

and their tyranny is simply beyond comprehension. This is not so because the majority of the members of abort in of mankind to take advantage of power. Only a few people in the world know how the people in the world he welking delegate has betrayed the pelement that gave him strength, until today labor unionism no longer enjoys, the sympathy and respect of the community.

"Sixty ger capt, of the people who are in unions are held there, not because they hope into improve their working conditions or to secure less hours of work, but because they are afraid of having a brick thrown at them by some skate or blatherskite whose prosperity depends upon keeping the laboring element in a continual uproar. This great sixty per cent, are honest, well-phainloned people, and it is your duty and my duty to see to it that they are reached and brought into our ranks and properly protected.

Let us get together like men and recognize the fact that God always intended we all should live and be comfortable and let us recognize the great American principle which guarantees every man, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Say good morning and how do you do to the man with a dinner bucket, and let him learn to respect the man with a dinner bucket, and let him learn to respect the man with own which and the him learn to respect the man with own which and the him learn to respect the man with a dinner bucket, and let him learn to respect the man with a dinner bucket, and let him learn to respect the man with own works behind the desk and labors as long and as hard as hees hucket, and the him learn to respect the man with a fact is conceded on both sides, we are good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is just as good as we are, and no better; he is septially well known to readers of the newspaper between the propose of the newspaper between the propose of the newspaper between the propose of the newspaper between the plants are the plants of the pla before." The first thought that strices the reader is that some rank outsider slipped into the convention and got this plank adopted surreptitiously. If this was not the case, it is hard to conceive how the plank got into the platform, so totally opposed is it to the commonly avowed policy and universal practice of labor unions. "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none" means that the non-union man shall have the same right as the union man to work—that no particular class of men, union or non-union, shall be specially privileged to earn their bread because they happen to belong to that particular class. The principal is a good one. Union workingmen of Kansas City have heretofore put it into practical effect by breaking the heads of "scabs" whose only offense was that they wanted to earn a living, and by inducing the city government and private business concerns to give union labor the exclusive privilege of working for them. If they really mean what they say in this declaration, organised labor in Kansas City is turning a new leaf and is entitled to warm congratulations on the fact; but there must be a radical change in conduct to correlear and is entitled to warm congretu-lations on the fact; but there must be a radical change in conduct to corre-spond with the new platform, or the public will regard it as so much bun-combe, put out for political effect.

Adams was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of picking the pocket of W. H. Galbraith, a tourist from St. Paul, Minn. Galbraith felt his purse being abstracted from his pocket, while standing in a crowd at Fourth street and Broadway. He gave chase to the alleged pickpocket, who threw away the purse containing over $50, as he ran, and a policeman caught him.

to stay here to prosecute him, no matter how long the trial might be delayed.

When Adams was arraigned he said he was not ready for examination, and he had the case delayed on one pretext or another, for about ten days. Then the people were not ready because Gaibraith, the complaining witness, had disappeared. An attachment was issued to have him brought into court, but when the case was called yesterday afternoon he had not yet been found, and Prosecuting Attorney Rose asked for a further postponement. E. I. Hutchison, who appeared for the defendant, objected, but the court granted a continuance until 2 o'clock Thursday. If Galbraith does not appear by that time the case against Adams will probably fall through.

Attorney Hutchison tried hard to have the complaint dismissed yesterday, and he intimated that the only reason the prosecution asked further delay was because the detectives were trying to trump up another charge against Adams. The police are looking up Adams's record.

"The amateur apotter who cost me my job," said a former conductor on the Lexington-avenue-line, "is a Normal School etri, who looked as innocent as a dairy maid. I know it, because I have taken pains since I was laid off to make investigations. It is a face well known to conductors that students in the colleges make a little extra money as amateur spotters on the cars. In fact, they make four or five trips a day and get from 60 to 80 cents for it. They work with beans, beads and lots of other things. We han never tell. But a conductor is never afraid of a man with a pencil and notebook. The amateur spotters run only on snort trips—from Fourteenth to Fifty-ninth street, for instance. If a man is caught on a short trip the company puts an expert on him for two or three long trips. If the report of the student spotter is confirmed, he is dismissed with no explanation except that his services are no longer required. The company seldom makes a mistake. If a man is dismissed for knocking down, ten chances to one he deserves it."—

A Dangerous Clock.

The greatest care is taken at the Czar's general receptions to prevent any attempt on his life. The system of espionage at court is the most elaborate that can be devised. Nevertheless, there are, from time to time, alarming indications that the precautions taken are inadequate. In the month of May last an explosive was found in the clock in the chimnerplece of the breakfast room in Gatchina, in which the little daughters of the Czar were accustomed to take their breakfast with their English governess. For some reason it was noticed that the hands of the clock pointed to five minutes although the mechanism of the timepiece was operating as usual. On examination it was found that a high explosive had been inserted in the clock.—[Everybody's Magazine.] A Dangerous Clock.

SHORT CHANGE ARTISTS.

When Policeman A. S. Wilson of Los angeles waiked into the County afill today and identified "Spencer" and "Williams," the two short-change artists who film-flammed several merchants out of $6 each, the culprits were highly indignant. They pretended not to know the officer from the Angel City, but he easily refreshed their memories. One of them he found to be the son of Maj. Horace Bell. The other is theorie Baughn, both of Los Angeles. Un to this time the fellows have been only loquacious, but now they are inclined to maintain a discreet silence and they are adverse to any kind of interviews.

They have given Sheriff Coburn enough information, telling him how easy it was to "work" the average Riverside merchant, alleging that this was the choice of all the places where they attempted to try their tricks. Over at San Bernardino the officers soon made them leave down.

Now the prisoners are serving out 100-day sentences, but there are some other and more ugly charges hanging over their heads.

hOT COON CHASE.

Deputy Sheriff McNabb had an exciting chase and fight with a negro thief early this morning, which resulted in the negro's arrest. He is charged with being the leader of a gang of brass theves, which has been looting the Santa Fé shops. The last haul was made five weeks ago, and Sheriff Raiphs concluded that the thieves would bury their plunder for a time, and after the matter had been forgotten by the public, they would endeavor to sell it.

This conclusoin proved correct, for two days ago the negro called at a second-hand store kept by a deputy sheriff and disposed of some of the brass. He promised to return this morning with another loa l, and Deputy Sheriff McNabb was detailed to capture him.

The negro made a break for liberty, the officer hotly pursuing, emptying his revolver without effect. The chase was through the heart of the business section, down through the willows east of town, where the officer and negro had to dash through mud and water. Finally the darky came of bay, armed with a rock, and fought desperately.

SANTA ANA. POSSESSED OF A FORTNUE.

SANTA ANA, March 15.-C. R. Campbell of Tustin last night received campoint of Taskin and high releases a telegram from his cousin, W. T. Mr. Campbell's of $100,000, a one-sixta interest in the estate of his father. Mr. Campbell's father died in June, 1902, leaving property valued at $400,000 to be divided among six heirs—C. R. Campbell of Tustin, W. T. Stanley of Salt Lake, his wife by second marriage and her three children. A provision of the will was that a residue of the estate should not be divided until the youngest of the children, then 4 years old, should become of age, and this was taken as an excuse for refusing to divide any of the property. Suit was brought by Mr. Campbell and his cousin to compel division at once, and after being decided against them in the lower courts, they won their case on appeal to the Supreme Court. The property is now available for the heirs, and consists largely of mining interests.

Milady's Newest Stockings.

Are hosiery purses for women to supplant the dainty purse or recticule? Hosiers who have made a long study of woman's needs for pockets have introduced under the guise of St. Louis Fair souvenirs a big variety of woman's stockings with pockets knitted near the top.

As a rule the pockets are done in bright colored silk, the designs being the Stars and Stripes, crossed flags of St. Louis Fair inscriptions on pink or red silk. The pockets are three and a half inches in length and one and three-quarter inches broad, and are made ostensibly for the safeguarding of railroad tickets.

Hosiers gravely announce that the new creations are the forerunners of a modified pocket stocking, which will be fastened or buttoned, and is detinued to contain the money or trinkets which milady carries about with her.

RETTY EVENT IN PASADENA.

W. B. Mershon, Mrs. Melville Stone, Mrs. W. J. Hogan and Mrs. G. L. Huggins.

At the home of Dr. L. H. M. Biron, No. 231 South Pasadena avenue, this evening local horsemen will meet with a view to organizing a permanent racing association to hold meets at Tournament Park.

Among the ambitions which the new Tournament of Roses Association has under its bonnet is one for a convention hall, a thing regarded as much needed.

a severe hemorrhage. Mr. Rodriguez was a wealthy Cuban, interested in sugar planting in the island, who came to this country some years ago in search of health, being a victim of tuberculosis. He had made his home at Azusa for some years, and had lately invested in an orange ranch near the Glendora foothills. Lest winter he made a trip to Arizons, and while there had a severe illness, from the effects of which he never fully recovered. N. W. Blanchard and N. W. Blanchard, Jr., of Santa Paula were in town today on a tour of inspection of the various orange and lemon packing-houses of the district.

CATALINA ISLAND. FISH COME OUT OF SEASON.

AVALON, March 15.—The mild winter just past has fooled the fishes into thinking that summer has come, and all sorts of fish are appearing out of their accustomed season. The albicore are staying with us, the yellow-tail appeared weeks ago, and today the white sea bass put in an appearance, a month or more ahead of time.

In fact, two varieties, which usually come later, are reported today. A. O. apolis, an elevator man of Migneapolis, who was fishing for yellowtail, struck a white-sea bass, landing him in good style. The fish weighed forty pounds. Mr. Cornwell had been in but a short time when N. S. Pheips reported with a fine barracuda, also the first one taken here this season.

LITTLE PICKINGS, FISH COME OUT OF SEASON.

LITTLE PICKINGS. A company of picnickers took pas-sage in rowboats yesterday morning, and went up the coast to a secluded cafion and spreading a sumptuous lunch proceeded to enjoy themselves. The party included Mr. and Mrs. T. C. The party included Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Burnaide, Miss Anna Ryan of Los Angeles; Mrs. G. L. Merts, Miss Bessie M. Williamson of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Boggs and Harry Boggs of Charleston, W. Va., and Count William Grebst of Gotenberg, Sweden.

Albert Lieber of Indianapolis, was out after goats this morning with Joe Adargo, the island guide, and corraled four fine billies.

Mrs. Lewis Groff and daughter Dorothes, Mrs. W. M. Jenkins and Miss Lou Buckley, are spending the week on the island.

Mrs. E. H. Robeson and son, R. H. Robeson, and Miss Kentherine Ferris of Rochester, N. Y., are at the Metropole. The Robesons represent one of the largest manufactories of nickelplated goods in the country.

The full Board of Supervisors of Los

CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT. COLLEGE STUDENT DEAD.

CLIAREMONT. March 15.—This morning at 4:30 o'clock Vernon Hervey Wolcott passed away after a short and severe attack of acute pneumonia. Mr. Wolcott was a member of the senior class of Pomona College and was a young man admired and liked by all who knew him; he had an unusually cheery disposition and lived his life for those about him.

Vernon Wolcott was born in Taunton, Mass., in 1882. In 1885 the family came to California and during his youth he attended public schools in Covina, Ontario and Moreno, and spent two years in the Redlands High School. He then came to Claremont and had been in the college here ever since. He graduated from the preparatory school in 1900 and took three years of college work, being obliged to leave his studies the past year on account of failing health. Mr. Wolcott founded the Claremont Cyclery and for several years had worked hard in his shop, between college hours, and by this work was able to assist his two sisters, who are now alumni of Pomona, in getting their college education. He was a mechanical genius and a bright career in many directions was interrupted by his death. Mr. Wolcott was an only son and leaves a father, mother and two sisters.

Spring and Easter Opening.

This is the last day of the great "Opening." It has been all, and more, than we anticipated. The public have enjoyed this great exposition of new merchandise, and have been very generous with their patronage. But this great display means more than a three-day's effort—it is but the forerunner of what you may expect throughout the season at Hamburger's. We are never satisfied with doing well, but we constantly try to better all previous efforts. Possibly you have been here in the two previous days; but come again today and get all of these wearables firmly fixed in your mind, so that in drawing comparisons with what others offer, you will readily see that the merchandise at Hamburger's is the best.

Spring and Easter Opening Cloaks and Suits.

BARGAIN TABLE

We can promise you for today a complete showing of all the wearables we expected to feature the first day of the Opening but which were unfortunately delayed a few hours in transit; so if you were here Monday and did not see all that you reasonably expected, come again today and you will not be disappointed. These are the highest exponents of the dressmaker's art and represent the work of the best modistes in Europe and America. We wish to call particular attention to the fact that in the costumes the majority of the skirts are in the "1830" style, which will have a general prestige this season. However, for the matter of advertising we know that you are mostly interested in the tailored suits and we herewith describe a few of the principal lines.

Special Opening Offer Wednesday Only.
